Questions About Your Badass Video

Being different is better than being "better". But, being different isn't as easy as you may think. However, the time you put into your answers will be rewarded with viewers that "get" your message and are genuinely interested in hearing or seeing more information. At the same time, your message won't resonate with people who wouldn't be great team members. You don't want them anyway. Turn-on the best, turn-off the rest.
